What is it that makes a campsite great? Is it the warmth of the welcome, the quality of the facilities, the number of pitches, or the park's location? Running our Top 100 Sites listings over the years has taught us one thing: it's all of these, and more. Very often there's that certain something that you can't quite put your finger on; a special atmosphere that makes a good holiday become a simply great one.

That's what you've told us over the years, and every site that you'll find in our 2014 line-up offers just that. This year our listings are more comprehensive than ever before: thousands of you whether you stay in a caravan, motorhome, tent or caravan holiday home – have had your say about the sites that you love. Our experienced test team members have been through each and every entry, and visited countless sites, to come up with this year's results, and the most exhaustive listings that we've ever produced. We've included full contact details; these are relevant for all bookings - from tent to caravan holiday home unless we've indicated otherwise. Enjoy your trip!

Two campsites feature in the region in this year's Top 100. Ballyness Caravan Park is perfect for visiting the awe-inspiring Giant's Causeway, the world-famous distillery at Bushmills, and the many other attractions of the north Antrim coast. Rushin House, close to the border with Eire, is perfectly located for exploring historic Enniskillen and the Fermanagh Lakelands.

Visitors to Northern Ireland should also be sure to take a trip to fabulous Belfast; vou'll receive a warm welcome to this beautiful and historic capital city.

We say∅

The northern coast is a wonderful place to take a tour, and Ballyness makes an ideal base for exploring all of the sights within easy reach, including the incredible Giant's Causeway. There are three separate sections to the touring area, which features 48 pitches in total; these pitches are well-spaced, so the site never feels crowded. Every touring pitch is hardstanding and has its own electricity, water and waste hook-up point. A motorhome service point is also available.

There's plenty at Ballyness to keep the entire family entertained, including a library, a barn with board games, a play area, pool and table tennis tables. Free Wi-Fi is also available.

- Gallyness is the best site we've ever stayed at in Northern Ireland. There's an immaculate attention to detail, and modern facilities to match. The children love the play area and the site is very safe. One word sums it up: outstanding!"
- We return here as often as we can. The toilets and washing areas are very clean, and the games room is very useful if the weather is wet outside."
- "The family bathroom is a great idea for those with young children in tow."

REGIONAL WINNER

Last year's 'Best in Northern Ireland' winner in both the Practical Caravan and Practical Motorhome Top 100 Awards takes the crown here once more - and a quick look at what it has to offer reveals the reason why. It features a tremendous location alongside Lough MacNean, as well as a great level of facilities. It's well-located for exploring some of the region's finest sights, including the Enniskillen Museum. And those who enjoy walking will love its proximity to the Ulster Way.

The site is open from March to October, but handily an aire de service facility is open from November to February by prior arrangement. New facilities include a great new outdoor gym, which allows you to get fit while admiring the lovely vista over the lake.

- "This is a highly maintained site with excellent facilities and views, and it's convenient for touring the surrounding area. The owners are extremely welcoming and friendly."
- 🕻 I was so impressed by how beautiful the site was it's great for fishing, kayaking and relaxing. The owners are so friendly and so welcoming when you arrive, too. The toilet blocks were always spotless. My family and I look forward to our next visit."
- " ALL touring sites should use Rushin House as their example."
- CEVerything about Rushin House impresses, from the warm welcome on arrival to the regular chats with various members of the owner's family. Even the family dog wanders around and is great with all visitors."
- <sup>44</sup>This campsite is one of the best I've been to in Northern Ireland, and I've been to a lot! The toilet block was warm and immaculate, with music playing in the background. I've met the owner several times and he is always friendly."

o much of Scotland has spectacular scenery to enjoy – there are picturesque islands to the west of country, brooding lochs and soaring peaks are on offer across the Highlands, while Scotland's rugged coastline is a beautiful attraction in its own right. There are some stunning National Parks to visit, too, which are perfect for walkers or cyclists: they shouldn't miss the Loch Lomond and Trossachs National Park, as well as the mountains of the Cairngorms. There's much to see further south, too, thanks to the beauty of Dumfries and Galloway, and the fascinating history of the Borders.

You shouldn't tour Scotland without taking a trip to one of its handsome cities: many head for Edinburgh and Glasgow, but Dundee, Aberdeen and Inverness are all worthy of a visit in their own right, too.

Three Scottish sites make it through to our finals this year: one in the west, one to the south and the third in the north. No matter where you're touring in these areas, they're guaranteed to offer somewhere great to stay.

We say...

Grantown-on-Spey scores consistently well in our Top 100 Sites Awards, and this year was no exception. Walkers will love the many paths they'll find nearby in this part of the Cairngorms; the Strathspey Steam Railway and the Cairngorm Funicular Railway are also within easy reach. The malt whisky trail - the only one of its kind in the world - is also a great draw to the area.

The facilities back on site are of a good quality. Washrooms have underfloor heating and cubicle washbasins, and there's even a separate toddler washroom with a small bath. A games room with table tennis and a pool table will keep children occupied, and there's a shop at reception. The site has also received a David Bellamy Gold award, demonstrating its commitment to environmentally friendly credentials.

- This is the cleanest, best-kept park in Scotland by a mile. Nothing is too much trouble for the very pleasant staff. We're returning next year for a longer stay."
- The wardens are friendly and helpful and really make you feel at home on this clean, well-kept site. Facilities throughout are first-class, including a disabled toilet and shower facility. All the pitches are well-maintained."

We say...

If you're keen to get away from it all, make Muasdale your first point of call. Located in Tarbert, in Argyll, it has tremendous views out across the sea. The site was created in the 1960s by Richard and Margaret Semple, and Margaret still lives in the village of Muasdale. If you're a wildlife watcher, you'll feel right at home at this park; there's a good chance of spotting oystercatchers, seals, otters or even dolphins, so be sure to take your binoculars. Muasdale is handy for the ferry crossings to Arran, Jura, Gigha and Islay, too.

This is a small site, with just 10 pitches located next to the beach, so it's well worth booking in advance if you'd like to stay. The touring facilities are limited – there's no pool, play area or shop – but there is free Wi-Fi. Digital TV coverage is also available.

You say...

- "The owners are very friendly and knowledgeable, the toilets and showers and amenities are immaculate. The site itself is spotless without lacking charm and it's in a beautiful location, too."
- Cocation, location, location! We liked the welcome and clean facilities. The shower room has plenty of space and plenty of room for stuff, and the showers are nice and hot."

REGIONAL WINNER

We say...

Our 2013 winner, located in scenic Dumfries and Galloway, returns to the top spot for 2014. Once again, Kippford's fantastic views, nature walks, good facilities and friendly staff meant that hundreds of you gave it your vote.

This is definitely a park for those who appreciate peace and quiet, in a real get-away-from-it-all location. Kippford even has its own 800-year-old bluebell woodland, where you just might be able to spot an elusive red squirrel. The views from the site are tremendous; on clear days you can see right over to the Lake District.

There are 35 pitches, separated from one another by gorse and granite outcrops. Elsewhere on site you'll find baby-changing facilities, a shop, heated washrooms, a play area and full laundry facilities. Caravan Club and Camping & Caravanning Club members receive a 15% discount when booking.

- "The layout of the site is very nice it's all quite private and beautifully maintained. The great kid's play areas were an unexpected bonus, too."
- Each pitch was nicely secluded and had its own water tap. The shower block was lovely and clean as well."
- "Kippford has plenty of well-maintained greenery, and there are lovely views from some parts of the park. Overall this is a really nice site."
- We liked the unregimented and landscaped pitch settings and the way motorcaravans, static caravans and lodges blended into the scenery."

We say...

There are few sites as pretty and as well-maintained as this caravan park in the beautiful Conwy Valley, on the eastern edge of Snowdonia. Its tidy gardens and flower beds have even led to it winning the Wales in Bloom competition for 26 consecutive years. So it's an attractive place to pitch up, but the facilities are of a great quality, too.

There are 35 touring pitches in total, all with 16A electric, TV, water and waste hook-ups. Wi-Fi is available on site for a fee. There's also a dishwashing area, a small play area and dog walk; the larger of the two washrooms is heated. A small farm with geese, hens and sheep will help to keep younger visitors amused during their visit.

- " We were made to feel very welcome. The toilets and shower blocks were always clean and well-lit. Lawns and gardens were impeccably kept."
- We liked the park's attractiveness, tidiness, layout, facilities, proximity to small towns, mountain walks and other places of interest. We are regular visitors to the site."
- Godnant is well laid out, with big pitches. There are good facilities, and it's easy to access the site, which is pretty and peaceful. The proprietors are helpful and welcoming."

We say...

Whether you prefer your touring site to be large or small, you're sure to enjoy your stay at Bron Derw. It's made up of a trio of sites, including a main park, an adults-only site with seasonal pitches only and an award-winning Caravan Club CL. Bron Derw is perfectly located if you're planning to explore beautiful Snowdonia, as it's right on the edge of the national park.

Across the three sites you'll find multi-serviced pitches with 16A hook-ups, and well-maintained washrooms; the two larger parks also have a utility room with a dishwashing area. A self-catering apartment is available as well – handy if you'd like non-tourer-owning friends and family to stay close by.

You say...

- We stayed for six nights and wished it was longer. The pitches are all fully serviced and of a generous size, with plenty of well-kept grass around each. The facilities are second-to-none: spotless and well-maintained."
- The owners were very friendly and helpful. The two brilliant dog walks were always kept neat and tidy, and the toilets and showers were always spotless. All in all, this is a great, relaxing site at which to stay. I would recommend it to anyone and will certainly be staying again."

There are 130 pitches on site - including 20 specifically for motorhomes - arranged in groups. These are serviced by a pair of clean, well-maintained heated washrooms, a laundry, tourist information centre and a games room with table tennis and a television. As an added bonus, the beach is just a short stroll away.

We say...

This lovely, adults-only site is located in the grounds of the former Emral Hall estate. There are 20 luxury, all-weather hardstanding pitches, all of which have 16A hook-up, and water, waste and TV hook-up. There is a modern washroom with a pair of showers and underfloor heating, and a dog-walk area.

Step outside your tourer and you'll be able to enjoy one of the many walks through the nearby woodland. You might even spot the historic dog graves, the final resting place of the dogs that were originally kennelled at the Emral estate. If you enjoy fishing, then you'll love this site - those visiting the park can fish at Emral Brook or the on-site pond for free.

You say...

- "You can enjoy a pleasant stroll through the woods and beyond, or just chill out by the lily pond. The site owners are pleasant and very helpful. We will be returning soon."
- "This is a small, family-run site of 20 fully serviced pitches centred around the former Emral Hall, which was destroyed by fire some 100 years ago. Here, wildlife is actively encouraged, which makes for wildlife-watching in abundance - not surprising, then, that the owner holds a David Bellamy Gold award."

The Isle of Anglesey is a popular touring destination; if you're planning to visit, you're sure to enjoy a stay at Kingsbridge. It's a tranquil place, and lighting is kept at a minimum so you can star-gaze to your heart's content.

The site covers 14 acres and has 50 touring pitches, all with 10A electric hook-up. There's a shop that stocks basics, and a pair of clean and tidy washrooms complete with underfloor heating. Children can play in the large area dedicated to ball games, and there are dishwashing facilities, too.

The owners pride themselves on the site's low impact on the environment. Buildings are fitted with low-energy lighting, and heating is solar-powered.

- The site is well-organised and very quiet, and the toilet block is the best I've seen on any campsite!"
- Marian and Andy are very accommodating, providing answers to all questions when booking to make sure your break goes without a hitch. The site is always clean and tidy and has areas where both families and people wanting a quiet time away can stay."

We say...

Exploring south Wales couldn't be easier if you pitch up at Llandow Touring Caravan Park. It's only a few miles from the Glamorgan Heritage Coast, and just a 20-minute drive from the exhilarating city of Cardiff. The site is also easily accessible from the M4 motorway.

The park is made up of two areas: one of 100 pitches, and the other with 75. Around half of the 175 pitches are seasonal. Visitors can use the facilities in either area: these include a laundry, dishwashing area, well-stocked shop, and smart washrooms. There's also a play area sited away from the main caravan site. The larger site is more suitable for those touring as a family, while the smaller area is better for couples and those with disabilities.

You say...

- Staff were friendly and professional. The on-site shop, while small, had everything we needed to keep the kids happy and provide our evening meal. Everything was clean and family-friendly including a wonderful little play area."
- "Llandow is family- and pet-friendly. The owners have a relaxed approach, and they were happy to help at any time. The facilities are well-maintained."
- The staff are always very helpful nothing is too much trouble – and the facilities are very clean."

Rhyd y Groes

We say...

This picturesque site really is exclusively for adults there's a minimum age here of 25. As such, it represents a great place to get away from it all and enjoy some peace and quiet. While at the park you'll also be able to enjoy the birds, butterflies and moths that are attracted to the surrounding shrubs and trees.

There are 30 touring pitches, all of which have electric hook-up. Elsewhere on site you can make use of the free swap library (at which you can exchange board games, DVDs and books), an enclosed dog-walk area and an information point. There's also a washing-up area, a microwave and a motorhome waste-water point.

- We stayed for a week on our first visit to the site and found that it was like camping in a beautiful garden, with a mass of various flowers and a wonderful variety of different trees that were just coming into bloom."
- We have stayed on hundreds of sites. This one is far and away the best. It is clean, friendly and all the amenities are well-maintained."

Tyddyn Du is another regular in our Top 100 listings – you frequently tell us just how much you love it. Situated on the North Wales coast, it offers tremendous views of the sea and across towards the Isle of Anglesey. You'll be able to enjoy some tremendous sunsets, and walkers will also appreciate the site's proximity to the gorgeous Snowdonia National Park.

Facilities at Tyddyn Du include sparkling washrooms, as well as a laundry room and sinks for dishwashing. All pitches have 16A electric hook-up, and Wi-Fi is available. The park is close to the A55 dual-carriageway, so it's easy to access, but don't enter the site's postcode into your GPS – it won't take you to the entrance. Instead, visit the website for directions.

North East England

his stunning region was once a hot-bed of dispute over border fights between England and Scotland; these days it's a fantastic place to head if you're looking for a peaceful tour. The six sites that have made it through to our finals this year are well spread down through the area, allowing you to explore the region with ease.

If you enjoy walking you'll want to head for the North York Moors; there are paths there suitable for all abilities. Alternatively, head to Hadrian's Wall to stretch your legs and learn all about those long-running border disputes.

There are so many great towns and cities to visit in the region that you'll find yourself spoilt for choice. History lovers will adore the many sites of York, while cosmopolitan Newcastle-upon-Tyne, Hull (the city of culture for 2017) and Leeds offer much to their many visitors.

If you prefer to see the sea, then you'll also find numerous destinations that you're sure to enjoy. These include the traditional coastal towns of Scarborough and Whitby: you'll find fantastic sandy beaches at both.

t's not really surprising that so many of our Top 100 finalists this year are located within easy reach of the Lake District: it has to be the UK's favourite National Park, and the region caters well for visitors. Walkers will love the dramatic scenery of the peaks that surround the water; those who enjoy boating or canoeing will also feel at home here as they take advantage of the brooding lakes. If you prefer your past-times less active, then you'll still find plenty to do here, thanks to the many pretty villages and grand houses that you'll discover between the lakes. There's a great range of sites in the area, from all-singing, all-dancing, full-facility parks right through to small, peaceful locations.

Head further south in the region and you'll be able to visit the family-friendly, traditional resort of Blackpool which offers fun for all the family. Lytham St Annes and Morecambe are also classic holiday resorts.

Music lovers shouldn't miss a trip to Liverpool, where they will be able to visit some of the many sights that are connected to The Beatles.

There's plenty to see in the surrounding area, including Orford and Framlingham castles, the towns of Woodbridge and Aldeburgh, and historic Sutton Hoo. Walkers will also love the proximity of the Suffolk Coast Path.

- " We found this site last year. It is immaculately maintained – the showers and toilets are extremely clean – and it is in such a peaceful setting. We have been so impressed; this site has great people running it, and they have extremely high standards!"
- We had never been to Suffolk before and saw the good reviews about Run Cottage so decided to have a week there. Michelle and Andy were most welcoming. The site is ideal for a peaceful stay. We would definitely recommend it as a very good choice for couples and families."

Heart of England

he Heart of England is often overlooked as a touring destination, which is a shame: it offers so much variety in its attractions that you're sure to find somewhere fascinating to visit. It's easy to access, too, thanks to the number of motorways that plough their way through the region.

The Peak District National Park is perhaps the most popular place for visitors, and with good reason: its fantastic combination of stunning scenery, historic properties and picturesque towns make it a winner with all ages. Fortunately, there are numerous of our Top 100 finalists within reach of it, so you're sure to find somewhere great to stay during your trip.

Cosmopolitan Birmingham is great for a day trip, and you shouldn't miss the dreaming spires of Oxford. Those who have a penchant for all things historic will be in their element here: they'll be able to discover many landmarks of the Industrial Revolution including the Grand Union Canal - and Warwick and Stratford both teem with history, too.

We say

Any wildlife-lovers should head for Barn Farm next time they're planning a trip to the beautiful Derwent Valley this site is a real haven for fauna, and there's a chance you might spot a black fallow deer or badgers.

The facilities at this small site are far from back-tobasics, however. There are clean and tidy washrooms, a shop, laundry equipment, a children's play area for those up to the age of 10, and a games room with a pool table and a TV. There's even a sauna and a sunbed for guests to hire! Camping barns are available - handy if you're holidaying with family or friends who don't own their own touring vehicle.

You say

- 66 Barn Farm is well-kept, with very friendly staff, good, clean facilities, and great views. It was a shot in the dark when a group of us bikers booked our places here; some stayed in a bunkhouse, while others camped. But it paid off well: the plan is to go back there next year, too!"
- <sup>44</sup> The facilities such as showers, toilets and the dishwashing area were all to a high standard and were always wellmaintained. The on-site shop was brilliant, and the kids' entertainment was great, too. All of this has made us consider bringing our families next time."

Birch Hill is also located down a long drive, so you'll be settled well away from any roads.

The town of Ellesmere is around one mile from Birch Hill.

This site really lives up to its name. Located in the lovely Onny Valley and covering 15 acres, it offers lush greenery, attractive woodland and a sparkling (but small) river running through its heart. You can choose to pitch up at a variety of locations; several pitches are situated alongside the river. If you really want to get back to nature, you can set up camp in the wild, unmanaged area at the end of the Rally Field - here you'll be able to wildlife-watch to your heart's content, as more than 50 bird species have been spotted here. Unsurprisingly, the Green Caravan Park has won numerous David Bellamy Gold Awards for conservation over the years.

Elsewhere on site you'll find washrooms (showers cost 20p), laundry facilities and a shop selling basic groceries and gas. There's a children's play area, too.

any visitors pass straight through the southeast on their way to catch a ferry from Dover, but the region has much to offer in its own right. Then, of course, there's London: you might not think that it's a viable touring option, but it's within easy reach of a couple of our Top 100 sites this year.

One of the biggest draws to this area has to be the beautiful and historic New Forest, where you'll be able to see ponies roam free, and walk across the glorious moorland. From there it's a short hop over the Solent to the stunning Isle of Wight: the latter is a camper's dream, as it offers a host of attractions a short distance apart. There are a couple of great campsites on the Island that have made it through as finalists in our line-up this year, too - so you've no excuse not to visit!

Dorset

iscover one of Britain's prettiest counties with a visit to beautiful Dorset. Here you'll find rolling hills, a tremendous coastline, some handsome traditional seaside towns - and four of our Top 100 finalist campsites.

In the east of the county you can discover Bournemouth and Poole; both are great shopping destinations, and the former has an attractive stretch of sandy shore. Beach lovers should also head to Weymouth, which has a pretty bay that's safe for swimming. Nearby Portland is located at the end of the world-famous Chesil Beach: 18 miles of shingle, where wild waves crash on the shore.

This stretch is also part of the incredible Jurassic Coastline, where you can discover fossils and other historic remnants that betray the region's ancient past.

Further inland, don't miss a trip to some of Dorset's pretty villages and welcoming towns, such as Sherborne, Blandford and Gillingham, to name just a few.

We say

Set in the grounds of a Victorian farm, Bingham Grange is an attractive, peaceful site that's exclusively for adults. Facilities are of a high standard here; the washrooms have underfloor heating, there's a great and cosy bar and restaurant on the top floor of a converted barn, and you'll also find a laundry room, a woodland dog walk and a kitchenette for guests to make use of. All touring pitches are hardstanding, with electric hook-up.

The site makes an ideal base for visiting lovely west Dorset. Why not take a trip to historic Abbotsbury or Bridport, and then enjoy a stroll along the stony beaches of the Jurassic Coast to search for fossils?

You say

"This is a beautifully maintained site in all respects. I loved the private bathroom and showers with plenty of room for all one's bath things. There are heated towel rails, too, and the woodland dog walk with a stream is fantastic."

"From the first welcome we knew this site was good. We were guided to our pitch and asked if we could manage (we could). The site is immaculately clean and very well maintained and all facilities (including three sets of showers) were excellent."

Somerset, Avon & Wilts

omerset is probably the most popular touring destination in this region, and that's not surprising, given the diverse landscape it offers. For a start, there are the wild and remote uplands of Exmoor, which walkers love. The coastline here is fabulous, too, and there are so many other attractions in the county, including the fascinating towns of Glastonbury, Taunton and Wells, as well as Cheddar Gorge and atmospheric Wookey Hole.

There's also a great deal to discover in Wiltshire, including wonderful Salisbury with its tremendous cathedral. In fact, numerous handsome historic towns are scattered across this region; the best of these include Trowbridge, Marlborough and Devizes. No visit to Wiltshire would be complete without a trip to one of the UK's most famous landmarks: Stonehenge now has a brand-new visitor centre, which should make your visit even more fascinating and informative. The standing stones at Avebury also make for a fantastic day out.

Fancy learning to paint while you're on your next tour? If so, Waterrow is the destination for you. At this beautiful adults-only site you take a course, and beginners or the more experienced are all welcome.

The site is run by Tony and Anne Taylor, and it's maintained to an incredibly high standard. The pitches are set within nicely landscaped surroundings, and all offer 16A electric hook-up. There are also seven grass pitches for those with a tent.

Although the site is located in rural Somerset, it's just a few miles from the Devonshire border; so it's a great park from which to explore the best of both counties. Exmoor National Park is only half an hour's drive away, too, which is perfect for walkers.

- "Waterrow is a hidden gem! The site was beautifully maintained and the facilities were very clean. Staff are lovely and helpful and the location is beautiful, with so much to do and see in the area. I will definitely go back."
- We loved the excellent layout and the friendly site owners and wardens, who were always available and happy to assist. The attention to detail made the stay enjoyable. There's also plenty of hot water in the showers.

We say⊠

This hugely popular, adultsonly site in Somerset has taken our regional winner award a hugely impressive three times, and it obviously continues to impress everyone who visits. It tops our regional category once more in 2014.

So much thought has gone into the running of Bath Chew Valley: the pitches are large and well landscaped, there are luxury washrooms, free ironing facilities, a lending library, a motorhome waste-disposal point, a conservation area, a dog-walking area... the list goes on and on. There's even the opportunity to hire a car if you want to leave your motorhome on site.

The attractions of this site aren't limited to its facilities, though. It's close to a championship fishing lake, and the beautiful city of Bath is easy to reach. All of which adds up to a fantastic campsite that truly deserves to come first in this category.

- $\hbox{\it ``Staying here was like staying in someone's private'}\$ garden with all the trees and shrubs. Being able to hire a car hourly or daily was a bonus."
- We loved the friendliness of the staff, the efficiency of the whole operation, the wonderful landscaping and amazing washblock! Also great was the proximity to brilliant pub food and great sights."
- "You arrive, check in, the staff put your van on pitch and they remove it at the end. Each bathroom cubicle has a handbasin, shower, toilet, hand- and hairdryer. The information room has a library, too."

Devon

his year our Top 100 listings feature an amazing 16 sites in lovely Devon, every one of them well-placed for exploring the many delights that this county has to offer the visitor.

Towards the north you'll find Exmoor, which Devon shares with Somerset; but it has Dartmoor, further south, all to itself. Either makes a great place for walkers to visit, as they'll be able to enjoy the miles of pathway that are on offer.

Back on the north coast you'll be able to take a trip to see some hidden coves and sandy beaches; you can even take a boat ride to try to spot seals, or visit Lundy Island and keep an eye out for its resident puffins.

You'll also love a visit to the English Riviera, which you'll find along the south coast - there are plenty of family attractions in that area to keep everyone entertained. Historic Plymouth is a great place to head for a spot of shopping, or for learning all about the city's amazing nautical past. The county town of Exeter is also a great place to spend the day.

With views over the English Riviera, five-star facilities and friendly service, Beverley Park contains a touring area for caravans and motorhomes, and is one of three sites run by Beverley Holidays; its two sister sites accommodate static caravans. For children, the Lagoon outdoor heated pool, indoor soft play area or supervised arts and crafts activities are a big draw, while the adults will be equally taken with the Oasis Centre, with its indoor swimming pool and well-equipped fitness suite, or the bar, where they can go for a relaxing drink. For active visitors, there's a tennis court, nature walks, crazy golf and outdoor adventure playground. Alternatively (or afterwards) they can relax and rejuvenate in the spa bath, steam room and sauna.

A choice of grass or hardstanding, non-electric and full-service pitches are available, with plenty of heated amenity blocks, including disabled facilities, throughout.

- "We loved the beautiful, well-maintained gardens."
- "The pitches are well-kept, and there are lovely views. Everything on site is secure and safe and staff are lovely."

With easy accessibility just 20 minutes from the M5 and Exeter, Cofton has been a family-run holiday park for over 30 years. Catering for motorhomes and touring caravans, all pitches are on level terraced areas, with hardstanding pitches allowing you to explore nearby Dartmoor throughout the year.

Guests can book a pitch as close as 32ft from the fishing lakes, or you can have glorious views of the valley from the Coombeland field, with 30 acres of parkland to explore.

- ** The park is clean, tidy and well-organised, and the staff are so friendly and go out of their way to help. We had a problem with our caravan this year, which they helped us fix in no time. We've been going to Cofton for more than 20 years."
- "Cofton is very reasonably priced and immaculately kept, with lovely landscaping. The swimming pools are very  ${\it clean; all\ the\ staff\ are\ highly\ professional; the\ toilets\ and}$ shower facilities are perfect and spotlessly clean; and the restaurant serves very reasonably priced food."

We say∅

What with the abundance of wildlife in North Devon and the profusion of flora and fauna, staying at Hidden Valley is a must for nature enthusiasts and anyone who loves wildlife-watching at close quarters. Recorded sightings show that otters, deer and buzzards are among the 'residents' of the park, while dragonflies and birds, including kingfishers, are also bountiful. In 2013, a beehive was introduced as part of the park's conservation programme; it now supplies its own honey.

As the name suggests, the Park is situated in an idyllic wooded valley, with purposely created walks to enjoy all the natural surroundings and wildlife. The facilities meanwhile are five-star, with heated amenity blocks and a well-stocked shop selling local produce.

- 44 After a warm meeting with staff we were taken to our pitch and helped to unhitch. The facilities are extremely good and there is ample space between pitches. The site also has very good toilet and shower rooms close enough for all to get to."
- This is a beautiful site, with fantastic-sized pitches, friendly staff and a lovely laid-back atmosphere."
- Hidden Valley is owned and managed by people who obviously care about their site and their customers."

We say∅

Less than a mile from the Blue Flag beaches of Dawlish Warren in South Devon is Lady's Mile, a large holiday complex with plenty going on. Super-sized hardstanding pitches and user-friendly amenity buildings are a given, but it's the entertainment facilities that stand out. New for 2014 is 'Oceans Spa', with a gym, sauna, swimming pool and hot tub, while opening in March is the Oceans restaurant and bar. A brand-new entertainments team provides evening shows and lots of daytime activities for the children – that is, if you can pull them away from the two fun pools, flume rides, plunge pools, the bowling alley, adventure playground and sports pitch.

Woodovis Park is nestled on the edge of the spectacular Tamar Valley, which is designated as an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and a World Heritage Site. Expect nothing less than the best here: this small and peaceful touring park offers facilities usually associated with larger sites. In addition to the usual facilities you anticipate on a modern, award-winning site (including a motorhome service point), there's an indoor heated swimming pool and spa pool, water-walking activities (yes, really), a physiotherm infrared therapy cabin to rejuvenate, revitalise and detox, and a pétanque court should you feel the need to pretend you're in France. You can learn archery on site with a trained instructor, buy fresh-baked pastries every morning and, in high season, enjoy a locally sourced hog roast each week.

You say⊠

- Woodovis is in beautiful countryside with excellent pitches, and very good facilities. The hot showers are to die for. It's very dog-friendly and has a well-stocked shop, but above all the friendliest most helpful staff you could wish for. I have recommended Woodovis to quite a number of friends."
- "They have the best staff: friendly, helpful and welcoming. It was a fantastic holiday; we hardly needed to leave the park."

Be assured of a warm welcome at Yeatheridge Farm, where the Hosegood Family run their caravan and camping park midway between Crediton, South Molton and Tiverton. As a working farm, the Hosegoods rear their Yeatheridge Pedigree Ruby Red herd of cattle and you can pre-order a beef or lamb (they also rear sheep) meat box before you arrive, ready for collection from the on-site shop - perfect for that barbecue.

Exclusively for touring units, with superb views over Dartmoor, Ross Park takes the top spot in the county of Devon by a country mile. It welcomes families and couples alike, and pitch privacy is key to the site's layout; all pitches (hardstanding and grass) include hook-up, with many supplying water and drainage, too. A centrally heated amenity block includes baby-changing and disabled facilities, while elsewhere on site guests can indulge in the New Barn Restaurant, or simply enjoy books and board games in the lounge or the adjoining Tropical Conservatory.

Outside, play areas and wildlife reserves will keep children entertained for hours, while a bus stop located 150m from the site entrance will transport you around the local area - unless you're tempted by the golf course across the road, of course.

Cornwall

ornwall has the longest coastline in Britain, so you'll be able to discover somewhere fantastic during your tour here: from the rugged cliffs of the north to the sheltered, sandy beaches of the south. Fourteen top-rated sites from the county have made it through as finalists this year; they are spread out across Cornwall, but are primarily dotted along the coast.

You won't find any motorways in the county, so you'll need to take your journey at a slower pace, but that's sure to get you in the laid-back frame of mind that will help you enjoy your trip here. There's just so much to see, including The Eden Project, The Lost Gardens of Heligan, the Seal Sanctuary at Gweek... the list goes on.

Inland you'll be able to strap on your walking boots and take to the rolling countryside of Bodmin Moor. Head south to fascinating Falmouth, and the historic fishing town of Penzance. Culture lovers can enjoy some great art in picturesque St Ives, and gaze across the Atlantic at Land's End.

Pitches are arranged in small groups separated by hedges or picket fencing so that the park feels intimate, while mature trees and additional hedgerows provide shelter for wildlife and keep the sea breezes at bay.

For those who prefer open water, four sandy beaches are all within a few miles, with great rock-pooling territory, too.

It's an ideal place from which to begin a walk, even if it's just for a one-mile stroll to the nearby village for a cream tea. Alternatively you can catch a bus from the site entrance to reach the coast, where you can pick up the South West Coastal Path.

- $\mbox{``C}$  This is an immaculately maintained and well laid out site in a beautiful and peaceful setting, with warm and friendly, helpful staff."
- $ilde{ iny}$  The layout and presentation of the site is fantastic, with lots of open space, lots of flowers and within walking distance to the beach. The 10.30pm curfew was adhered to by all."
- <sup>66</sup> Sun Haven Valley is such a quiet and peaceful site. We found the night-time curfew very helpful."

We say∏

Set in 12 acres of parkland on the stunning Roseland Peninsula, Trethem Mill is renowned for its landscaped gardens, which are ablaze with colour throughout the season, with many plants unique to Cornwall. Pick your own fresh herbs from the herb garden, or wander along the meandering paths in the nature meadow, where you can walk the dog.

There's a choice of level and gently sloping grass or all-weather pitches, all with 16-amp hook-up. TV points are available on most standard all-weather pitches and all premium pitches, which also have individual water and waste points.

- I cannot speak too highly of Trethem Mill: it is the best site we have ever stayed on. The facilities are always spotlessly clean. The park is kept in immaculate condition. It is in a perfect situation to explore the Roseland Peninsula and the rest of Cornwall."
- $ilde{ iny}$  This is the friendliest, most helpful site that we have ever stayed at. They are accommodating, have great policies for wildlife and always put their customers first."

We say

Trewan Hall lies on the north coast between Newquay and Padstow, and is a stunning 17th-century manor house. Within the grounds is the campsite, which has been run by the Hill family for nearly 50 years. There's an informal atmosphere at Trewan Hall that provides a safe environment for children to play and explore the 36 acres of woods and grounds, including beautiful gardens. A 25m outdoor heated swimming pool and masses of space for indoor and outdoor games will occupy everyone. Visit the library and writing room for quiet time, or 'The Barn', where evening performances are staged in the small theatre.

- "This is an extremely beautiful site and location. The family and their local staff all seem to love their jobs! You pitch where you like on the two fields, so if you're a group with your own units, you can all camp next to each other."
- It's a lovely, friendly campsite with wonderful facilities that have recently been renovated. We were able to pitch up anywhere we wanted, and the children found lots of other children to play with."
- "The real magic of this site, though, is the atmosphere and ambience. It is the ultimate laid-back experience."

Our regional winner in 2013 was also voted Best Small Site in 2012, and continues to please this year. Set in the beautiful wooded surroundings of Tolskithy Valley near Redruth, and within a UNESCO World Heritage Site, Tehidy Holiday Park offers peaceful camping that is still close enough to many of Cornwall's favourite attractions.

All the clean, modern amenities you would expect in an award-winning park are here, including wheelchairfriendly features (although the site is set on the side of a valley, so access to some facilities requires assistance), plus self-catering and glamping options if you're staying with non-touring friends. The site is also pet-free.

 ${\it ``Courfirst'}$  our first impression was the lovely, warm greeting at reception from Richard the owner. We loved the fact that this is a relatively small site with an excellent play area for children. Everything was spotlessly clean."

The site is beautifully laid out; Cornish hedges lend a sense of privacy to your pitch while being sympathetic to the local wildlife. The facilities are conveniently located and well maintained and include the usual showers, laundry facilities, etc."

The whole setting is simply wonderful. This was our fourth year here and we never tire of it."

There's lots to do. The site is modern and clean, with great facilities and friendly staff."

Overall

e received an enormous response to our Top 100 awards this year: thousands of you whether you have a caravan, motorhome, tent or stay in a static unit - told us about the site that you think deserves our top award. We're delighted to announce that the winner of our overall Top 100 award for 2014 is Whitefield Forest Touring Park near Ryde, on the Isle of Wight: not only did it win the highest number of votes from our readers who stayed there in a caravan, motorhome or tent, it scored very highly with our site reviews team, too.

So what is it that makes Whitefield just so good? Great facilities help, of course. The pitches here are spacious, and the heated washrooms are welcome. There's a motorhome service point, and a small shop, too. But it's the little extras that go a long way towards making a campsite great, and you'll find lots of them here.

The environment is vitally important: the site's been created with the surrounding woodland in mind, allowing its natural beauty to thrive. "The site blends in naturally with its surroundings; they are doing a good job!" reported one happy visitor. The welcome that you'll receive is warm, too, setting the tone for your whole stay: "The owners are lovely," said another visitor. You can even book a ferry crossing through the campsite, making planning your tour easier. The site's location is another reason why it's so popular: it's handily located to allow you to easily explore the island's beaches and towns.

As one contented customer reported back to us: "This is a very special place that brings us back here year after year." Congratulations go to everyone at Whitefield Forest, the worthy winner of our 2014 top award. For this site's address and contact details, see p66.
